WEDNESDAY, July 19, 1905.

We call attention to the card of Henry DeHaven Moorman, candidate for county judge, printed in another column. It states his position on the road question, a very important question to the tax-payers of Breckenridge county. There is nothing that Breckenridge county needs more than good roads and we are glad to see Mr. Moorman taking the stand for their improvement. He is doing something, but no candidate ever did before, letting the people know just how he stands and what he will do if elected. What the views were right or wrong, it shows that he has the courage to stand them and stand for them. We commend the young man's courage. It shows that he is progressive and means to do something besides collect his salary, if elected.

REMEDY FOR HAY FEVER

After Trying Other Treatments, Hyomeal Was Used with Perfect Success.

Before the discovery of Hyomeal the only advice a physician could give his hay fever patients, was to go away from home, but now anyone who is subject to this disease can, if Hyomeal is used, stay at home without fear of the annual attack of sneezing, watery eyes, and other discomforts.

J. F. Forbes, a well known Western railroad man, whose home is at McCook, Nebraska, writes, "I have never had any relief from any remedy for hay fever, even temporarily, until I discovered the merits of Hyomeal."

Always recommend it when occasions arise."

There is no offensive or dangerous stomach distress when Hyomeal is used. This reliable remedy for the cure of all diseases of the respiratory organ is breathed through a neat powder inhaler that comes with every outfit, so that the air taken into the throat and lungs is like that of the White Mountains or other health resorts, where hay fever is unknown.

The fact that Short & Hayes agree to refund the money to any hay fever sufferer who uses Hyomeal without success, should inspire confidence in its power to effect a cure. A complete outfit costs only $1.00 and extra bottles but 50 cents.

REMARKABLE DUELS.

Fantastic Contests That Tried Men's Nerve and Courage.

Two heavy weights suspended from a beam by silk or two Persian names were tied and voices to terminate their rivalry for the hand of a pretty actress. Beneath a weight each took his stand, there to remain until the breaking of one or the other of the cords should decide the fate. Fights to the bone, each equipped with motionless, which the cord attached to Duiker's weight snapped, and the ponderous mass of metal, falling upon the man beneath, struck him to the ground. Fortunately, however, it just missed his head, and he escaped with no worse damage than a severe shock and a broken collar bone.

Somewhat prolonged was the duel waged a few years back at a well known Yorkshire racing resort, to determine the two young men who would surrender his claim to the hand of a local politician's daughter. The rivals both prided themselves upon their senatorial prowess, so it was agreed that he who should first make his morning swim in the open should be the winner of the girl's hand. For nine months and more each took his matinal swim, but at length there came a day of such furious storm that one turned faint hearted and refused to dare the tempestuous billows. The other, however, a veritable rock, dashed into the foaming sea, and, although he was badly cut and bruised, emerged a triumphant woe.

Another aqua duet occurred some years since, the location being the lake of Geneva and the contestants a Swiss named Zellner and a Londoner named Grundon, who agreed that he who could remain the longest beneath the surface of the water should without interruption or hindrance from the other be permitted to pay his addresses to the daughter of a wealthy tradesman. The rival swimmers, however, were more than two minutes elapsed when Zellner's head appeared above the surface. There was no sign, however, of his rival, after whom when yet another two minutes had sped a couple of smokers dived in and found the swimmer still submerged. He was rescued, however, by his friends, who, however, were unsuccess-fully applied, and on Lenauer's recovering consciousness he was acclaimed the victor.

At the time of Sussi's forty day fast at the Westminster squaring some years ago, the two young men who had agreed by emulation his example to decide which of them should first propose for the hand of a girl who had hitherto regarded them with a seemingly impartial affection. Four days was sufficient for one who, after refusing to fast longer, was compelled to find his fast easier to his rival, whose proposal, however, met with scant consideration from the lady, who declared that she would not infringe her future to the keeping of such a fool as had proved himself. Needless to say his rival's reception was equally short.

During a very severe winter in the last century a couple of Germans, natives of Innsbruck, resolved for love of a woman to fight a duel to the death. Very fitful and uncertain was the proposed combat, portions of any kind and end only in the lighting of clothes, they went out into the country, there to remain without shelter until one or other of them should succumb to the cold. Three days after their departure a watch object crept back into the town. Ten miles distant his rival, frozen to death, lay beside the falling snow.—London Tit Bits.

Kipling's New Story.

Karl Kuhling has not been of late a frequent contributor to magazines. The August Century will contain a story by him, a tale of Americans in England, called "An Habitation Entitled 'Home'."

The story is said to be an unusually long one for Mr. Kipling, so long that the entire editors were minded of it to be put in two parts, but it was decided to let it all appear in the Mid-summer Holiday issue.

MORE RAILROAD TALK.

Probable That the L. & N. Is Behind Line From Madisonville.

(Madisonville Blaster.) It is considered a safe thing that the railroad from Madisonville to Cloverport or some other point on the Ohio river will be built without much delay. The surveyors are now in the field locating the line and there is little doubt that they are now locating it where it will finally go. It is evident to the person who studies the matter a little that the work in connection with the Cloverport proposition has been carefully planned and has been ably managed up to this time, and it would seem that little, if anything, remains to be done to perfect the scheme originally decided upon by the promoters.

From there are all sorts of rumors in connection with the ultimate ownership and operation of the road. The promoters have carefully kept their ultimate purpose secret, and the public can only assume as to what system will control it. Cloverport line seems built. It is being ostensibly promoted by parties at Hartford and Madisonville, notable among them being Mr. H. H. Holman, Vice President of Morton's Bank of this city. Mr. Holman makes no secret that the road, when built, is to be turned over to somebody, but gravely waves the matter off when approached as to the real partners in interest.

The latest rumor is, and it seems to have pretty good foundation, that the L. & N. is behind the proposition, that the line will run from Madisonville to Fortsville, where a branch line of the Texas reaches, and that this branch will be used for reaching the Ohio river.

Comparative Strength Of World's Navies.

The world's navy has just been issued from Washington. England stands first with 1,395,871 tons and France second with 903,521 tons. From this it is seen that England is more than twice as powerful on the sea as any other nation on the globe. United States stands fourth on the list with 316,925 tons which makes us weaker in the scale of 100,000 tons than Germany, who stands ninth on the list with 441,249 tons. Italy, Japan, Russia and Austria are the next down the list with nearly 300,000 tons each.

Before the war held between Spain and Japan, Spain held the third place on the list of naval powers but today stands next to the last in the seventh place. Japan has reduced the naval power of Russia to one-half of its former size.

The Working Class.

A traveler in the mountain country of East Tennessee stopped late noon at a cabin, says the New York Standard. In the shade of the house sat a comfor-table-looking, middle-aged man, apparently at leisure. A dozen dogs lay about him.

"Can I have dinner here?" asked the traveler.

"I reckon so," drawled the man, "when the old woman turns up."

The "old woman" came in after a while, leading a weary-looking male, and wiping perspiration from her brow with her big sunbonnet. She split some wood, built a fire, fished some water, and soon had dinner ready.

"You have a fine country here," said the traveler, as they sat down to the meal.

"Stranger," said the woman, "I reckon it's about as fine as they is or ever is, but the dogs, but it's mighty hard on women and males."

New Boat Takes Brownie's Place.

A gasoline boat is being built at Stephenville to take the place this month of the Brownie, which has been running in the Hawesville and Tell City trade and which, also, was built at Stephenville. It is understood that the Brownie will go into the Hawesville and Rockport trade, connecting at the latter place with another gasoline boat for Owensboro.
